

Short sessions ...

Cultural diversity and palliative care

Improve your knowledge and skill around cultural diversity in the palliative care context

Come and join our 50-minute online sessions for free!

Suitable for palliative care, acute and aged care clinicians.

Presenter: Tanja Bahro, manager of the Southern Metro Palliative Care Consortium has many years' experience in cultural diversity policy and education. Her presentation style is interactive and engaging, and you will not be bored!

Each session will be delivered via Zoom and have a maximum of 12 participants

Health literacy and palliative care

Wed 11 Nov 2pm – 2:50pm

Click HERE! to register

- what is health literacy?
- why is it important?
- how does it impact on the palliative care context?
- introduction to teach back

Working with culturally diverse teams

Fri 20 Nov 1pm – 1:50pm

Click HERE! to register

- values and end of life – the intersection
- considering culture in building teams
- conflict negotiation

Cultural diversity and health

Tue 24 Nov 12:30pm – 1:30pm

Click HERE! to register

- why is it important to consider culture in the palliative care context?
- myths about cultures
- negotiating between belief systems

Cultural diversity essentials

Wed 2 Dec 1pm – 1:50pm

Click HERE! to register

- to understand what culture is
- identify our own cultural values
- understanding the stats
- culture and palliative care

Cross cultural communication and troubleshooting working with interpreters

Wed 9 Dec 1pm – 1:50pm

Click HERE! to register

- elements of communication
- becoming a competent cross-cultural communicator
- when and how to work with interpreters

Registration is essential as places are limited

For further information please email... tanja.bahro@smrpcc.org.au